

INSIDE THE RADICALIZATION PIPELINE

From Indoctrination To Action

This course examines the full radicalization pipeline – from first exposure to violent action – across the threat spectrum that faces American communities today. Covering ISIS, Al Qaeda, IRGC proxy networks, Hezbollah, Hamas, nihilistic violent extremists, and The Com ecosystem, students learn to recognize how ordinary people become operational threats, what each stage of the pipeline looks like in the real world, and where intervention is possible. Built on nearly 30 years of counterterrorism experience and the instructor’s own firsthand exposure to forced indoctrination, this is not a lecture on theory. It is a field-grounded recognition course.

Built on firsthand experience and real-world pattern recognition

What You Will Learn:

- ▶ Identify grooming into grievance-based adoption.
- ▶ Understand belief hardening and echo chambers.
- ▶ Recognize digital ecosystems and reinforcement loops.
- ▶ Spot pre-operational behavior and mobilization.
- ▶ Interruption and prevention of the next mass shooting or lone wolf terror attack.
