Instructors

JENN BENJAMINS – Retired Sergeant Jenn Benjamins of the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department brings more than 22 years of law enforcement experience, with extensive expertise in undercover operations, vice investigations, specialized enforcement units, supervision, and training. Throughout her career, Jenn worked a wide range of undercover assignments, developing a reputation for her ability to build rapport, gather intelligence, and successfully operate in complex criminal environments.

Her undercover experience extended beyond vice investigations to collaborative operations with Narcotics, Criminal Intelligence, Organized Crime, and federal partners including the ATF, DEA, and FBI. These assignments provided her with a unique perspective on the skills, planning, communication, adaptability, and officer safety considerations essential to successful undercover operations.

As a supervisor, Jenn led specialized investigative units and undercover teams, gaining firsthand experience in operational planning, risk management, informant utilization, and investigator development. She is also a court-certified expert in the pimp/prostitution subculture and has testified extensively in criminal proceedings.

Today, Jenn is a nationally recognized instructor and founder of Covert Blue LLC, where she is committed to providing practical, reality-based training for law enforcement professionals. Her courses are designed to strengthen investigative skills, improve operational effectiveness, enhance officer safety, and prepare personnel for the unique challenges associated with undercover assignments and complex criminal investigations. Drawing from real-world experience, Jenn delivers engaging training that resonates with officers, investigators, supervisors, analysts, prosecutors, and task force personnel alike.

KRISTIE WILLIAMS – Sergeant Kristie Williams, currently with the Ocean County Prosecutor's Office (New Jersey), has over 20 years of law enforcement experience, beginning her career in 2005 and serving with multiple agencies throughout New Jersey. Throughout her career, she has specialized in narcotics investigations, undercover operations, and proactive criminal enforcement.

Kristie has worked extensively as both an undercover operative and case agent, conducting large-scale narcotics investigations in partnership with local, county, state, and federal agencies. She has participated in numerous complex investigations and wiretap operations and was recognized as the 2018 New Jersey State Narcotics Officer of the Year by the New Jersey Narcotics Enforcement Officers Association.

In 2024, Kristie was promoted to Sergeant and currently supervises the Ocean County Narcotics Strike Force, leading investigative efforts targeting narcotics trafficking throughout central and southern New Jersey. She is also a qualified expert witness in narcotics investigations and drug distribution methods.

Beyond her investigative work, Kristie serves as an instructor for the Ocean County Police Academy, U.N.I.T. (New Jersey's State Undercover School), and Top Gun (New Jersey's State Narcotics School). She is also a certified New Jersey Resiliency Officer specializing in undercover officer resiliency and wellness.
