COURSE DESCRIPTION

Law enforcement officers are frequently called upon to manage incidents involving people living with mental illness. This interactive, 8-hour training covers mental illness, stigma, substance use disorders, developmental disabilities, and more — equipping officers with practical tools to de-escalate crises and serve individuals with compassion and confidence. The class also features a guest speaker living with a mental illness, who shares his firsthand experience.

This training satisfies Senate Bill 29 (SB29), requiring all Field Training Officers (FTOs) to complete at least 8 hours of crisis intervention and behavioral health training.
