This comprehensive proprietary 1-Day (8 Hour) course is designed to enhance the communication skills of law enforcement professionals, focusing on conducting objective interviews and investigations during daily public encounters. By understanding effective communication elements, participants will be able to conduct unbiased interviews, minimize unnecessary citizen complaints, and protect both the officer and agency from vicarious liability. With an emphasis on improving officers' ability to evaluate behaviors exhibited by both themselves and citizens, the course teaches techniques to effectively analyze, interpret, and evaluate dialogue in face-to-face interactions. Participants will gain critical skills in recognizing factors that influence law enforcement and citizen interactions, enabling them to minimize miscommunications, de-escalate hostile situations, and conduct unbiased investigations. The course also covers the detection of deceptive behaviors, understanding cultural differences, and communication styles, ultimately helping officers articulate their findings in reports and testify confidently in court proceedings.
